From Saturday March 5. to Tuesday March 8. 1736.

Copenhagen, March 2, N. S.

ADmiral Bille has ſo far incurred the Diſpleaſure of his Daniſh Majeſty, as to be diſcharged from having any thing more to do in the Service of the Navy. The King however is pleaſed to let him keep his Rank and Title of Admiral, together with a ſmall Penſion, which he has received ſince he was removed from the Inſpection of the Holm. The Queen of Denmark is at preſent indiſpoſed with a Cold, ſo as to occaſion the putting off a Deſign the Court had of paſſing a few Days at Friedensburg. The Margravine is pretty well recovered, but does not appear yet in publick. M. von Johnn, late his Daniſh Majeſty's Envoy to the Court of Great Britain, ſet out from hence on the 22d paſt for his new Reſidence at Hambourg.

Dublin, March 1.

This being her Majeſty's Birth-day, the Great Guns were fired at the Barracks, and anſwered by Vollies from the Regiments in Garriſon, which were drawn out upon Oxmantown-Green: At Noon the Lords Juſtices met at the Caſtle and received the Compliments of the Nobility and other Perſons of Diſtinction; before whom an Ode ſet to Muſick was performed. At Night there was a Play given by their Excellencies for the Entertainment of the Ladies; and there were Bonfires, Illuminations, and all other uſual Demonſtrations of Joy.

Whitehall, February 11, 1736-7.

Whereas on Saturday the 9th of October laſt, about Ten o'Clock at Night, at a place called Flints Gate, in the Pariſh of Ferton, in the County of Stafford, John Dearn, Blackſmith, of Leyton, in the ſaid County, was aſſaulted by divers Perſons unknown, one of whom ſeized his Horſe by the Bridle, whilſt another knock'd him off his Horſe, and, by the Aſſiſtance of the others forcibly took from him Fifty Shillings, and beat and bruiſed him in ſo barbarous a Manner, that he has languiſhed ever ſince, and is in great Danger of loſing his Life, or the Uſe of his Limbs: His Majeſty, for the better diſcovering and bringing to Juſtice the Perſons concerned in the ſaid Aſſault and Robbery, is pleaſed to promiſe his moſt gracious Pardon to any one of the ſaid Perſons, who ſhall diſcover one or more of his Accomplices, ſo as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

Whitehall, February 15, 1736-7.

Whereas an Anonymous Letter, dated February N. D. 1736-7, directed, To Mr. Manning, Cooper, at Execution Dock, Wapping, was received by the ſaid Mr. Manning, requiring him to ſend Twenty Guineas to a Place therein mentioned, and threatning him, in Caſe of Refuſal, with Death, and to ſet Fire to his Houſe, Shop, and Yards: His Majeſty, for the better diſcovering and bringing to Juſtice the Perſons concerned in ſo heinous a Crime, is pleaſed to promiſe his moſt gracious Pardon to any one of them, who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

And as a farther Encouragement, I do hereby promiſe to pay the further Sum of Twenty Pounds for the ſaid Offender or Offenders, that ſhall be diſcovered and convicted as aforeſaid. Robert Manning.
